Client Spotlight With Richard Miles

For 33 years, the Minor Football League (MFL) has served as a powerful laboratory of change, proving that a passion for football doesn't have to end if a player doesn't make it to the NFL. Under the leadership of Dr. Richard Miles, the league creates sustainable, long-term careers by empowering former players to transition into roles as owners, general managers, and head coaches.

Dr. Miles extends this commitment to community growth and generational wealth through the MFL Foundation. Launched in May 2023, the foundation drives vital community programs focusing on conflict resolution, youth offender support, and youth entrepreneurship.

In building this legacy, Dr. Miles understands that credibility and professionalism are everything. That is where OSI Office Solutions comes in. For the past three years, OSI has served as Dr. Miles's professional home base providing him with the visibility, flexible office space, and mail services necessary to project an elite image to clients, even while his busy travel schedule keeps him on the move.

As his business needs have evolved, OSI's flexible, barrier-free environment has seamlessly adapted to support him, offering a warm and collaborative networking hub rather than a rigid corporate space.

As an experienced entrepreneur, Dr. Miles knows that building a grand vision comes with hurdles, from navigating others' skepticism to overcoming setbacks.

His core advice to rising leaders is simple: failure is merely a prerequisite for learning, and authenticity is non-negotiable.

Looking ahead, Dr. Miles plans to move back into a full-time physical office at OSI as he prepares for his next major play: expanding the MFL's footprint by selling franchises over the next two years.
