Getting to OSI Offices: A Metro, Parking, and Transit Guide

By OSI Offices | March 14, 2026 | 3 min read

If you've never visited OSI Offices at 1629 K Street NW, navigating downtown DC parking and transit can feel uncertain — especially if you're heading here for a first meeting, a workspace tour, or a session with one of our professional tenants. The good news: our location in Washington DC's Central Business District puts us steps from two Metro stations and at the intersection of virtually every major transit route in the city. Here are the OSI Offices directions for K Street, whichever way you're arriving.

By Metro — The Fastest Way Here

OSI Offices is one of the most Metro-accessible office addresses in Washington, DC, with two stations within easy walking distance.

Farragut North (Red Line) — Closest Station

Take the Red Line to Farragut North station. Use the Connecticut Ave & K Street NW exit and walk west along K Street. OSI Offices is at 1629 K Street NW — a roughly 2-minute walk from the station exit. This is the most direct route for visitors arriving from Dupont Circle, Bethesda, Silver Spring, or Union Station.

Farragut West (Blue/Orange/Silver Lines)

Farragut West station is also within easy walking distance. Exit toward 17th Street NW, walk one block north to K Street, then continue a short distance east. Most visitors make it in about 5 minutes. This is the best option if you're coming from Virginia, Rosslyn, Pentagon City, or anywhere along the Blue, Orange, or Silver lines.

Traveling from outside the DC area? Reagan National Airport (DCA) connects directly via the Blue/Yellow lines. Union Station sits on the Red Line — making OSI reachable from virtually anywhere on the WMATA system with just a transfer or two.

Driving and K Street Parking Near 1629 K Street NW

Driving to K Street is completely doable — the key is planning your parking before you arrive.

Street Parking

Metered street parking exists along K Street and nearby side streets, but spots fill quickly during business hours. Meters typically run from 7 AM to 6:30 PM, Monday through Saturday. Street parking works best for quick drop-offs or very short visits — for anything longer, a garage is more reliable.

Parking Garages

Several garages are within a 1–3 block radius of 1629 K Street NW. We recommend using SpotHero or ParkWhiz to compare rates and reserve a spot in advance — this is especially useful for morning appointments or busy mid-week periods.

- Garages on 17th Street NW, 16th Street NW, and along M Street are all within easy walking distance
- Many garages offer flat-rate "early bird" pricing for arrivals before 9 AM
- Weekend rates are typically lower than weekday rates
- If you're visiting for a conference room event, ask the OSI team about parking options for your guests

Avoid 7–9 AM and 4–7 PM if possible — K Street carries heavy commuter traffic during peak hours, and parking fills faster during those windows.

By Bus and DC Circulator

K Street NW is one of DC's primary east-west bus corridors, served by multiple Metrobus routes running through downtown. Use the trip planner at wmata.com to find the best route from your starting point.

The DC Circulator's Georgetown–Union Station route also runs along K Street with a flat $1 fare — a convenient and inexpensive option if you're coming from Georgetown, Foggy Bottom, or near the Convention Center.

By Bike

Capital Bikeshare has multiple docking stations within two blocks of OSI Offices, including stations near Farragut Square and along K Street. Cycling here from Dupont Circle, Logan Circle, the National Mall, or Adams Morgan takes just minutes — and docking is easy once you arrive.

If you're bringing your own bike, OSI provides a secure bike storage room available to clients and their guests.
